

Stephen G. Higgins

Steve Higgins dedicates his practice to the areas of commercial law, business transactions, general litigation, real estate, nonprofit corporate law, and probate. In addition to serving the clients of Kay Casto & Chaney, Mr. Higgins is the Municipal Judge for the City of Morgantown and a former Fiduciary Commissioner for the Monongalia County Commission.

Mr. Higgins received an associate's degree from the State University of New York at Farmingdale and obtained a bachelor's degree from the State University of New York at Stony Brook. In 1993, Higgins received his Doctor of Jurisprudence from the West Virginia University College of Law, where he served on the Moot Court Board. He is listed in The Best Lawyers in America for his work in commercial litigation.

Within the legal community, Mr. Higgins is a member of the Monongalia County Bar Association, previously serving as its president, and currently serving on its Professionalism and Civilities Committee. He is a member of the West Virginia State Bar Association and the West Virginia Defense Trial Counsel of West Virginia.

Mr. Higgins has been a guest lecturer on state workers' compensation law for the College of Business and Economics at West Virginia University. Previously, he served as president and a member of the board of directors of Stepping Stones, a nonprofit corporation serving people with disabilities.