

Luci R. Wellborn

Luci Wellborn joined Kay, Casto & Chaney in 2006. Her practice is focused in the areas of civil defense litigation, commercial litigation, insurance coverage and defense, professional liability and mediation.

Ms. Wellborn has 25 years' experience in handling and litigating insurance defense cases and claims, including coverage issues at both the trial and appellate levels. Prior to joining Kay Casto & Chaney, Ms. Wellborn was an in-house attorney for USF&G and, following merger, St. Paul Fire and Marine Insurance Company representing commercial clients in litigated matters and providing day-to-day counsel to the Claim Department. Ms. Wellborn began her career in a large defense firm in Charleston where she successfully litigated cases involving products liability, police liability, insurance defense and personal injury.

Ms. Wellborn has served as lecturer for insurance claims personnel and agents on issues involved in the claim-handling process, including applicable West Virginia case law.
